What you need to know about joining the leading organisation for the community creators in Western Australia

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

The Urban Development Institute of Australia (UDIA WA) acknowledge the traditional custodians of the land on which we work, the Whadjuk people of the Noongar Nation. We also acknowledge the Traditional Custodians across Western Australia and their continuing connection to the land and waters where our members operate.

We wish to acknowledge the strength of their continuing culture and offer our respects to Elders past, present and emerging.

UDIA WA'S COMMITMENT TO RECONCILIATION

UDIA WA is currently in the process of developing a 'Reflect' Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) with guidance from our RAP Working Group consisting of members from UDIA WA Council, UDIA WA Diversity Committee, UDIA WA members and UDIA WA staff.

We strongly believe in providing leadership to the broader urban development industry in respect to reconciliation and more meaningful engagement with the Traditional Owners and Custodians of the lands on which we and our members operate.

ABOUT UDIA

The Urban Development Institute of Australia (UDIA WA) is the peak membership organisation representing all aspects of the property development industry in Western Australia.

We are the leading voice on property development in WA and work collaboratively with government and other industry bodies to represent our members and achieve a policy environment that enables the world's best practice in property development in our state.

UDIA promotes excellence and innovation in the creation of sustainable communities. We educate stakeholders about the value of city and town creation.

Our work is based on quality research and knowledge, the institute addresses a range of policy issues and produces expert market commentary and information.

Membership is open to all organisations that participate in the urban development sector including developers, finance and banking institutions, design and planning firms, local and state government agencies, engineers, environmental consultants, builders, accountants, lawyers, architects, marketing professionals, community engagement specialists and more...

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

UDIA WA has a curated professional development program specifically catering to furthering our members knowledge and understanding in a range of areas relevant to the industry. Members receive discounted rates to participate in the programs on offer.

UDIA WA GOVERNANCE & COMMITTEE STRUCTURE

UDIA WA is governed by a Council of elected members who set the strategic direction and policy priorities for the organisation. Our Council is supported by two strategic committees and six operational committees.

The Strategic Committees have been formed to bring the sharpest minds together from our membership to support the UDIA WA Council and executive team in driving our strategic priorities. This includes a focus on our policy platform, ensuring we remain an effective advocate and continue to demonstrate thought leadership, and a focus on broader value for our members and ensuring our continued growth.

Each Strategic Committee will report to Council on the progress against agreed priorities and rely on the expertise and input from the six Operational Committees and Expert Pool members.

The Outlook Committee identifies and promotes opportunities for professional development, networking, growth and engagement of emerging and existing young professionals. One member of each of the operational committees is required to be an Outlook Committee representative.

We also have two ongoing working groups, one focused on Diversity and the other focused on driving UDIA WA's journey towards our Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP).

This year UDIA WA have introduced an Expert Pool to bring together experts across a broad range of specialist areas to supplement the expertise and resources of our committees to drive specific pieces with clear goals.

Our annual Policy Priorities document outlines our endorsed policy positions for the year ahead. UDIA WA is committed to transparent evaluation of our advocacy performance so that members know exactly how we are performing and the advocacy efforts we are making on their behalf.

Our members actions are governed by our Code of Conduct that maintains the highest standards across industry. Read our Code of Conduct here.

LEADING THE INDUSTRY'S CLIMATE RESPONSE

Significant changes to Western Australia's climate over the last century and future predicted changes need consideration in development. The development of affordable, climate resilient housing is a key.

Significant changes to the development and built form industry are expected over the next 30 years as we move towards net zero. It is likely to affect all aspects of the development industry including construction, design, planning, and built form.

UDIA WA is committed to influencing climate action through the development of a strong position and roadmap for climate action in 2022 which will support our members to transition into a low carbon, climate resilient economy.

Our Climate Action Advisory Group will lead the development and implementation of the roadmap in 2022.

ENVIRODEVELOPMENT

UDIA WA is already championing sustainable urban development through our well established national EnviroDevelopment program which provides independent certification to development projects that achieve outstanding performance across four or more elements - Ecosystems, Waste, Energy, Materials, Water and Community.

EnviroDevelopment serves to make it easier for purchasers to recognise and, thereby, select more environmentally sustainable developments and lifestyles.

UDIA WA AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE

UDIA WA members are associated with an industry organisation that has been in operation for over 50 years. We are focused on leading an industry that is creating quality, sustainable communities for future generations while looking after the housing needs of current new home buyers.

Our well renowned Awards for Excellence program rewards exemplary projects and recognises the fantastic work our members undertake in the development industry every day.

With 16 awards on offer including the highly coveted Russel Perry Award for Urban Development Excellence, our awards identify excellence throughout Western Australia.

This prestigious awards program is widely regarded as the pinnacle for the urban development industry in terms of achievement in community creation, innovation and sustainability.

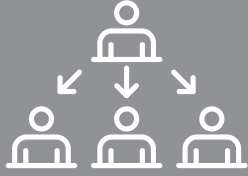

The award winners and finalists represent the very best urban development projects delivered within Western Australia, and are reflective of the growth of best practices and industry as a whole.

Each year the winners and finalists are celebrated at our Awards for Excellence Gala Dinner, attended by over 500 guests including prominent industry and government stakeholders.
